Comments/Suggestions

We used 2009 as a year to move from a bi-annual newsletter to a monthly blog. We felt this was a way to keep in touch with our members on a regular basis. Each month's blog included an article (written by librarians across the state) on a hot topic such as fundraising, joining a consortium, etc. OR an article highlighting special features or programming at a specific library. We didn't accomplish much in the way of educational programming due to cancelled events and lack of funding for directors of small libraries to attend programs that were held.
