

PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT PROGRAMS

The Ohio Library Council provides several delivery methods for professional development:

Keynote	A dedicated headline presentation that is of general interest to the entire event audience.
Breakout Session	One-hour program that is part of a conference or convention.
Un-program	A moderator-facilitated discussion among a group of participants.
LIBChat (Library Interesting Briefs)	A short, 10-15 minute session on a thought-provoking topic meant to introduce ideas to the group with no discussion or Q&A. Does not include audio-visual elements
Poster session	A visual representation of an educational topic that is displayed at another event. May include informational handouts.
Panel	A minimum of 3 of speakers led by a moderator, who facilitates discussion between the members of the panel and the audience.
Workshop	A standalone educational event on a specific topic or to develop a specific skill.
Webinar	An educational event that is delivered electronically.
Article	A written informational piece that may be published in OLC's newsletter or other publication.
